

An Ounce of Prevention

Infrastructure is one of the most valuable assets a community has—and one of the most difficult and costly to repair and replace. For most communities, it's far less expensive to protect infrastructure that's already in place by using preventive inspection and maintenance to mitigate or avoid the effects of corrosion.

Manhard Consulting can help with NACE-trained inspectors who bring decades of experience in facility inspection, planning, site preparation, cost analysis, and job site supervision. With Manhard, you get expert eyes on your infrastructure, and an experienced team to help extend the life of your valuable community assets.

Corrosion destroys metal of all types, silently reducing the useful life of equipment, structures, and valuable infrastructure. Our innovative coating system provides continuous corrosion protection throughout the service life of your asset.

Manhard Consulting's Corrosion Protection services help maintain the structural integrity of water and wastewater infrastructure and facilities.
